Welcome to the 10th CSO 360 Global Congress Scandic Copenhagen 2026

We are delighted to announce that Chief Security Officers, directors of security, resilience, geopolitical intelligence and risk from across Europe and beyond will convene in Copenhagen this December (2-4) under The Chatham House Rule to explore together how they are managing business realities amidst the backdrop of the current global security horizon.

The Chief Security Officer role now sits at the intersection of innovation, trust, and business and national competitiveness. Resilience has become the ultimate business enabler. Our programme enables meaningful conversations, peer-to-peer insights, and the opportunity for senior security practitioners to step back from daily pressures to engage, share and benchmark with others carrying similar responsibilities.

NEW for 2026:

In addition to our trademark 1-2-1 CSO 360 Innovation Speed Meetings (3 December), we're thrilled to launch our new CSO to CSO Meet your Mentors-Mentees Circle (4 December) in Copenhagen where we pair CSOs/practitioners:

Mentor - What's one lesson you wish somebody had taught you earlier?

Mentee - What challenge are you wrestling with right now?

Ten years on, the purpose of CSO 360 remains simple: to provide a trusted space for security leaders to learn from one another.

To those who have been part of the CSO 360 journey from the beginning, you built this series and we whole-heartedly thank you for your continued support over the years. To those joining for the first time - we welcome you and encourage you to connect with other security leaders in the community.

Many thanks. We look forward to meeting you in wonderful Copenhagen for this once-in-a-decade edition.

Warmest regards,
CSO 360 Team

Why Join CSO 360?

- NEW for 2026! CSO to CSO Meet your Mentors-Mentees. Be both Mentor and Mentee in specific areas. We match you with CSO/security practitioner peers for short meetings onsite.
- NEW for 2026! Moderated Q&A for each solo session. Agendas are tight Speakers
- Our trademark 1-2-1 CSO 360 Innovation Speed Meetings (3 December). Meet the field's most respected providers, one-to-one in a compact session, to see if there is a business fit. Time saver!
- NEW for 2026! CSO to CSO Meet your Mentors-Mentees Circle (4 December). Everybody teaches. Everybody learns. You may be the most experienced voice in the room on AI governance or travel security, while simultaneously looking for a peer who has already solved a board reporting or event security challenge you are just beginning to face. Seniority is not the measure here, experience in a specific area is.
- Real-World Relevance - practical and grounded in real operational decisions.
- Peer-level, Off-the-Record, Actionable Takeaways: A trusted global community of security leaders.
- Board Engagement: Practice translating technical incidents into board-level decision intelligence.
- Resilience speakers embedded from our CSO 360 events - We encourage cross-pollination between cyber, corporate security, resilience, intelligence, respecting the craft of each discipline.
- Dedicated evening schedule of cultural receptions and dinners - Stunning settings.

Wednesday 2 December 2026 CSO 360 Roundtable

Protecting your CSO value as AI and the threat landscape move faster than any of us.

The Faculty Led by and with CSOs.

Closed peer roundtable · The Chatham House Rule · practitioner-led. A peer-led session drawing on the community rather than positioning any one person as presenter. No slides. No products. Just CSOs, in confidence, solving it together.

AGENDA IS SHAPED BY THE ATTENDEES A NATURAL CONVERSATION.

- Peer-to-peer conversation - 'seated in the round'
- Antithesis of traditional conference formats - no slides, no stages, no audience. CSO knowledge share. Your challenges become our agenda. We consulted everyone pre-event to identify CSOs priorities.
- Chatham House Rule - non-attribution setting, no press
- All voices are heard as we draw out insights from the diverse experience in the room. Experienced CSO moderators and facilitators guide rather than direct.
- Practical takeaways - benchmark implementable approaches to risks, threats and opportunities

Timings and order of sessions is provisional

08:30 Arrivals, Coffee, Refreshments

08:55 Chairperson's Opening

09:00 Briefing & Questions: Global Security Horizon

09:50 Panel: How are we managing global conflicts and instability? Regional updates

Geopolitical volatility is nominated by partaking CSOs as being the central risk shaping corporate security and is the dominant priority:

·Russia-Ukraine war (incl. long-term forecasts) ·Middle East tensions ·China's strategic posture ·Hybrid warfare
·Global and regional conflicts ·Election-related violence ·Extremism and political instability ·Economic warfare impacting business ·Protests, activism, US-brand demonstrations ·Entering fragile/unstable regions ·Travel security, executive protection, evacuation planning

With: Sara Pratley, VP of Global Intelligence, AlertMedia; Gal Messinger, Head of Global Security, Signify (The Netherlands); David Brooks, Head of Physical Security – EMEA, Northern Trust (UK)

10:20 Case Story: Transforming Security and Resilience at Denmark's Energy Backbone

Energinet shares how it is transforming its security and resilience posture in response: how the threat picture has been redrawn, what that has meant for the organisation, its people and its priorities, and what a national critical infrastructure operator has learned about building resilience at pace while keeping the lights on. How do you prioritise when everything is critical infrastructure?

Jim Terndrup, Chief Security Officer, Energinet (Denmark)

10:40 Case Story Q&A

10:45 Case Story: When Everything Is Critical: Human-Centric Security Leadership in a Polycrisis World

Global instability, technological acceleration and growing expectations have created an environment where security leaders are overwhelmed by competing priorities. The challenge is no longer understanding risk. The challenge is deciding what deserves attention, action and investment when everything appears critical. Success is increasingly defined not by identifying more threats, but by helping organisations focus on what matters most. This discussion explores how modern security leaders prioritise, influence decision-makers and build resilient organisations by placing people, behaviour and leadership at the centre of security strategy.

Maria Deronius, Head of Corporate Security, SAS (Sweden)

10:05 Case Story Q&A

10:10 Case Story: Billion-Dollar Decisions: Applying Intelligence Tradecraft to Corporate Operations in the Grey Zone

Case material is drawn from geopolitically driven activism, conflict, and hybrid threats across the world of global logistics. The conversation is about how analytic rigor earns its place at the table when the stakes are, in fact, billion-dollar decisions, and the ground under our feet has never felt more unstable.

· What it has actually looked like to apply structured intelligence tradecraft to a major commercial decision, and the editorial choices that determine how your message gets across. · How to inform and empower executives with both threats and opportunities rather than overloading them with all 'the bad' that can happen. · Translating intelligence for a non-intelligence consumer – how we have learned to make the 'what's in it for them' clear and actionable. · Outlook on the intelligence industry for corporates and where we go from here: AI as an enabler and a dangerous crutch.

Daniel Giordano, Head of Global Threat Intelligence, AP Moller-Maersk (Denmark)

10:30 Case Story Q&A

10:35 Spotlight: Owning the AI Decision: A CSO's Operating Model for the Age of AI

AI budgets are accelerating across the enterprise, yet much of that spend is being decided by the CIO and technology function, not by the people accountable for protecting the workforce. That leaves the Chief Security Officer with a defining choice: own the AI agenda for protecting people, assets and operations, or inherit tools chosen without security's duty of care in mind. This session gives CSOs a clear position to lead from: a practical three-part operating model - software for precision, AI for interpretation, humans for judgement - that keeps accountability and control firmly with the security leader while AI accelerates the response. Botan Osman explores how to make the investment case to the board, how to judge where your security operation genuinely sits on the path to AI-enabled operations, and how the model holds up against the threats a CSO actually manages - from regional crises and natural disasters to traveller safety incidents and major operational disruptions. Attendees leave with a working framework, and the language to defend it in the boardroom.

Botan Osman, CEO & Co-Founder, Restrata (UK)

10:50- Morning Coffee Break and 1-2-1 Innovation Speed-Meetings

11:50

Thursday 3 December 2026 - CSO 360 Global Congress - Day One

Timings and order of sessions is provisional

- 11:50 Case Story: Building and Scaling a Modern Security Programme
Practical insights, quick wins, and live examples of what works, what doesn't and how we are CSOs balancing the realities of budget and expectations from the board, teams, and providers. Insights shared by Franz before he opens up to the room for an open discussion.
- Building scalable corporate security programmes
 - Designing modern SOCs
 - Integrating tech innovation into physical security
 - Managing global programmes with constrained budgets
 - Vendor optimisation and financial stewardship
- Franz J.H. Polenz, Head of Corporate Security / Chief Security Officer (CSO), Schaeffler AG (Germany)
- 12:10 Case Story: Transforming a Security Function: What We Learned from a 5-Year Journey
Antoine Minot, Head of Global Security, Novo Nordisk (France)
- 12:30 Joint Case Story Q&A
- 12:40 Fireside Chat: Protecting Critical Underwater Infrastructure Amid Increasing Seabed Activity
Strategic importance of the seabed continues to grow, nations are advancing capabilities to enhance situational awareness, strengthen resilience, and protect vital subsea networks. Senior leaders will share updates on national initiatives, investment priorities, and collaborative efforts shaping the future of undersea security. Examining the strategic, diplomatic and operational implications of subsea cable disruptions, including the risks of escalation and misinformation following incidents. Exploring the need for stronger civil – military coordination and the integration of cable repair expertise into defence planning to ensure measured and effective responses. Assessing practical protection and repair realities, and how private – sector innovation and emerging technologies can enhance resilience against evolving threats to CUI.
- Invitations in progress
- 13:10 Building an Intelligence-Led Security Control Centre: Lessons from the Transformation Journey
David Brooks, Head of Physical Security – EMEA, Northern Trust (UK)
- 13:30 Joint Case Story Q&A
- 13:35 Lunch
- 14:30 CEO Panel: Talk to the Board - Geopolitical Resilience as a Business Enabler
We ask CEOs how they ensure that their organisations are resilient and how they refine capabilities to respond quickly and at scale to changes.
- Do we have the right security and crisis management to navigate disruption and uncertainty?
 - How do we build organisations that can take calculated risks, adapt, and seize opportunities? Shifting the focus from mitigation to proactive adaptation
 - How has the Russian-Ukraine war shaped how you think about risk exposure, resilience, and developing concrete capabilities to react to uncertainties?
 - How do you prepare and prioritise building digital and technological resilience?
 - How have you enhanced operational resilience to climate-related disruptions?
 - Looking ahead, what are the biggest shifts when it comes to organisational resilience?
- CEOs – invitations in progress
- 15:00 Post-mortem: Security and Intelligence During the FIFA World Cup 2026™
Senior Intelligence Manager, FIFA World Cup 2026™ — Canada, Mexico and the United States (US)
- Invitations in progress
- 15:30 Spotlight: Insider Risks as a Primary Threat
Malicious insiders are no longer isolated incidents. They've become a serious and growing threat across industries and geographies. Explore how insider threats have evolved, why AI may be accelerating the risk, and what today's threat landscape looks like.
- 15:40 Panel: Protecting Your Most Valuable Asset - People: When Business Travel Becomes an Intelligence Operation
As organisations become increasingly data-driven and globally connected, the traveller has become an extension of the enterprise itself. Protecting people now requires far more than physical security and itinerary monitoring — it demands an understanding of human behaviour, AI-enabled deception, and the intelligence tactics increasingly used to target individuals. The organisations that succeed will be those that treat travel security as a strategic capability combining intelligence, technology, psychology, and human resilience.
- How has the threat landscape for international business travel changed over the past year?
 - Which travellers are most attractive intelligence targets, and why?
 - Behavioural threat detection — do traditional travel security programmes fall short against AI-enabled human manipulation?
 - What role should behavioural psychology and cognitive awareness play in employee preparation?
 - Kidnap and ransom (K&R) — protecting staff in high-risk regions
 - How should today's CSO rethink travel security? What should an effective pre-travel briefing look like in 2027?

Continued. Timings and positioning are not yet confirmed.

2-4 December 2026
Scandic Copenhagen | Denmark

ABOUT THE 2026 VENUE: SCANDIC COPENHAGEN VESTER SØGADE 6, 1601 KØBENHAVN, DENMARK

The 10th CSO 360 Global Congress will be held at Scandic Copenhagen, on the edge of the Lakes and within walking distance of most of the city centre. At 18 floors it is the tallest Scandic hotel in Denmark and one of the larger conference hotels in Copenhagen, with 486 bedrooms and flexible meeting space that will house both the main congress.

The hotel is a few minutes' walk from Central Station and Vesterport Station, both served by frequent trains and buses through the day and into the night, which makes onward travel to the airport and across the Nordics straightforward for delegates arriving from the region. Tivoli Gardens and the main shopping streets are a short walk away.

For those staying at the hotel, there is a lobby bar with a barista, a restaurant, a gym, and bicycles available to borrow or rent. Parking is available outside or in the underground car park at additional cost.
